MAKIN' TRACKS

Name Ronnie Hedgins

 THE 1977 BULLDOG

Fairdale High School Fairdale, Kentucky 40118 Volume 18

Meet Waldo, a purebred, registered English bulldog - the proud mascot of the 1977 BULLDOG. Waldo was provided by Mr. Phillip Stewart, a 1969 graduate of Fairdale High School.

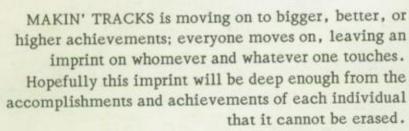

Makin' Tracks

Four years ago, starting as freshmen, we began to make tracks up to and through our senior year. Through those years we tried to make a tangible imprint wherever we went to indicate our presence. This is why our class, like all those who went before us, proudly proclaims that we are the best, and this is the way it should be. Like the seniors before us, the seniors of today will soon make tracks into an adult life. We must have faith in these tracks for these tracks will be the only reminder of what once was, but each individual track, no matter how precise or exacting, will wear away into an abstraction - Life.

Fairdale High School Fairdale, Kentucky

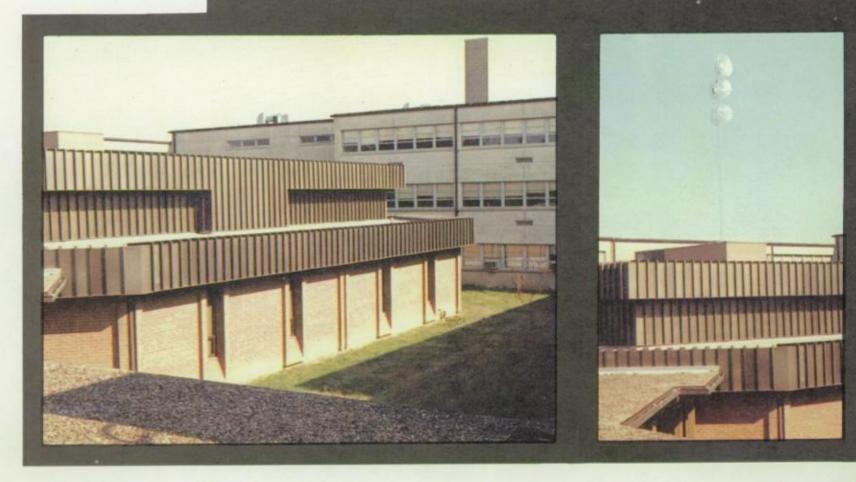

Fairdale High School opened for classes in the fall of 1958 and graduated its first senior class in 1962. That year also saw Fairdale's best football team ever, going all the way to the State AAA championship before falling to defeat to now-defunct Flaget High School.

Fairdale's campus has seen many changes over the years, including the addition of the Harry K. Hardin Athletic Center, named for Fairdale's first principal, and the TV complex, built in the courtyard between the senior and junior high sections.

The Senior Wall

There is a legend,
That's always told,
About a wall
The Seniors hold;
No one knows
How the legend
began,
But the story
is claimed
By a graduate man.

Now it seems
That long ago
Anyone could stand
Along this row.

But the day came
For this graduate

man
That he'd control
this wall
With a great big hand.

Not just anyone Was allowed to gather Just his class— The Seniors rather.

From that day on No one dared To stand by the wall Which the Seniors shared.

Now every year
When the Seniors
leave
The new Seniors move
in
And the wall is seized.

Students at Fairdale have a Spring Fling!

The spring season hosts a multitude of activities for high school students at Fairdale. Among the most anticipated is the Junior-Senior Prom, held on April 24, 1976, in the Crystal Ballroom at the Brown Education Center. "We May Never Pass This Way Again," a song made popular by Seals and Crofts, was the theme chosen by the host Junior class.

Always a fashion show as well as a dance for the girls, who plan weeks in advance for a dress worn once for a few short hours, proms now receive as much time and effort from the young men in regard to attire.

No longer do tuxedo rental shops dispense nondescript white dinner jackets and black slacks; instead they offer a multitudinous variety of styles, from elegant tails and top hat to cutaways and morning coats, and colors ranging from salmon and baby blue to the more sedate dove gray, black, and brown.

On May 21, the first annual Fairdale All-Sports Festival was held on the school grounds in hopes that proceeds would shore up faltering athletic programs. A wide selection of rides, games, and food was available; dunking football players, cheerleaders and coaches proved to be one of the most popular attractions.

Class night awards excellence in all areas

Following on the heels of the Prom and the Fairdale All-Sports Festival, Class Night brought the class of 1976 together for a banquet buffet prepared by Mrs. Rennirt and her lunchroom staff and to honor members of the graduating class for outstanding achievement in scholarship, athletics, and extra-curricular activities.

Co-op business students receive certificates of achievement for participation. Pam England is awarded a special shop award. Counselor Harold Craig awards Kathy Gutermuth and Kelly Utley the ''I Dare You'' Award. Mr. Summers recognizes the Top Ten. Kim Jackey assists as Ms. Hughlett presents awards to Fairdale Belles co-captains Debbie Arnold and Dora Perry.

May 28, 1976 was a washed-out Ring Day!

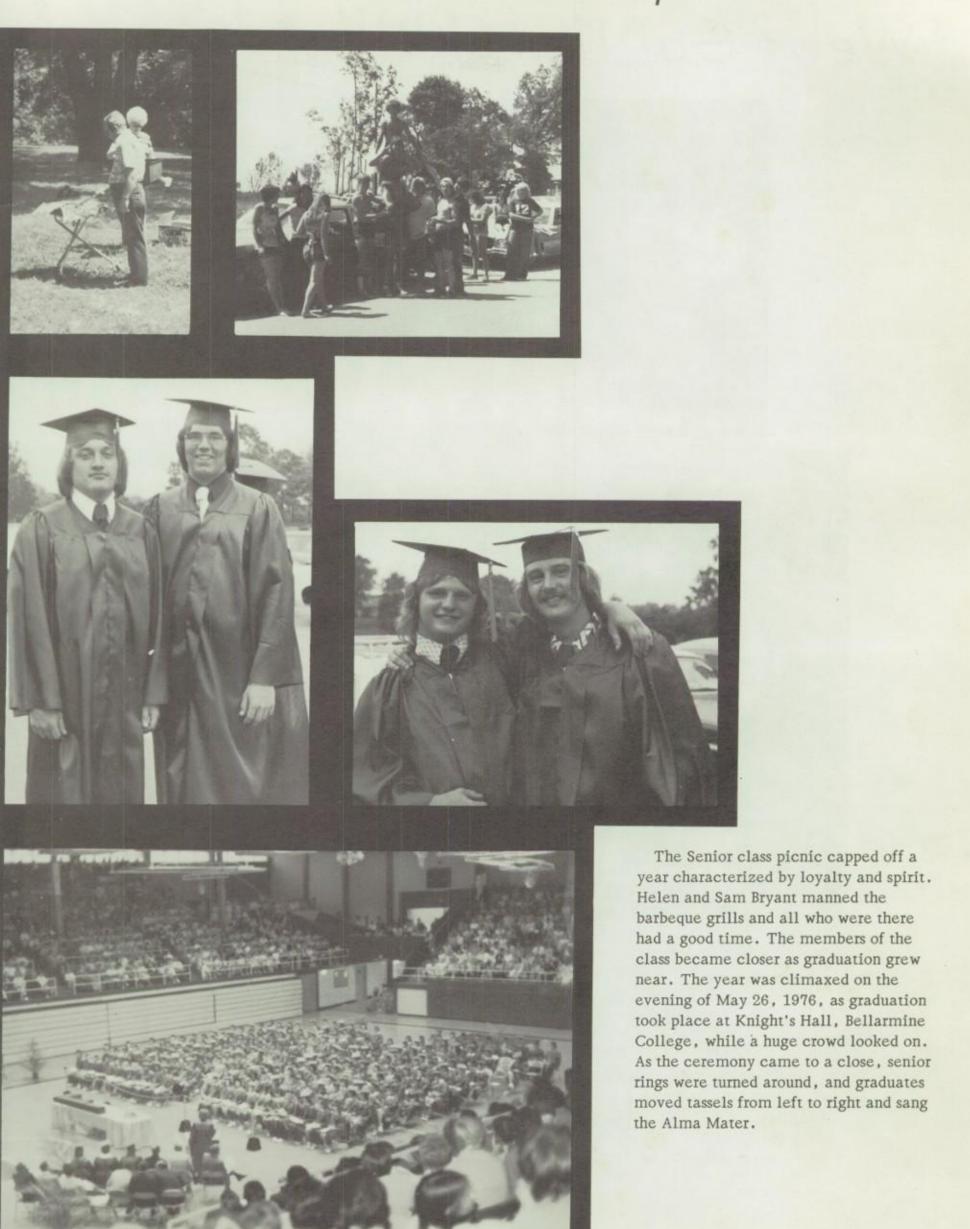

As the future seniors of Fairdale High School woke up on the morning of Ring Day, May 28, they heard a forecast for rain. They decided, however, that the damp weather was not going to put a damper on their festivities. As the day drizzled on, anticipation mounted and giddy Juniors began portraying Seniors more each moment. Sixth period finally arrived and the administration distributed the first ring to its owner. The joy of becoming "top dog" was overwhelming, and everyone was proud of his new possession. The new seniors waited impatiently to be released. Then the happy new class of 1977 headed toward a rain-soaked Forest View Park to a rain-soaked party. For most, the rain had not dampened the fun!

The Class of '76 winds it up.

We've Got That Spirit!

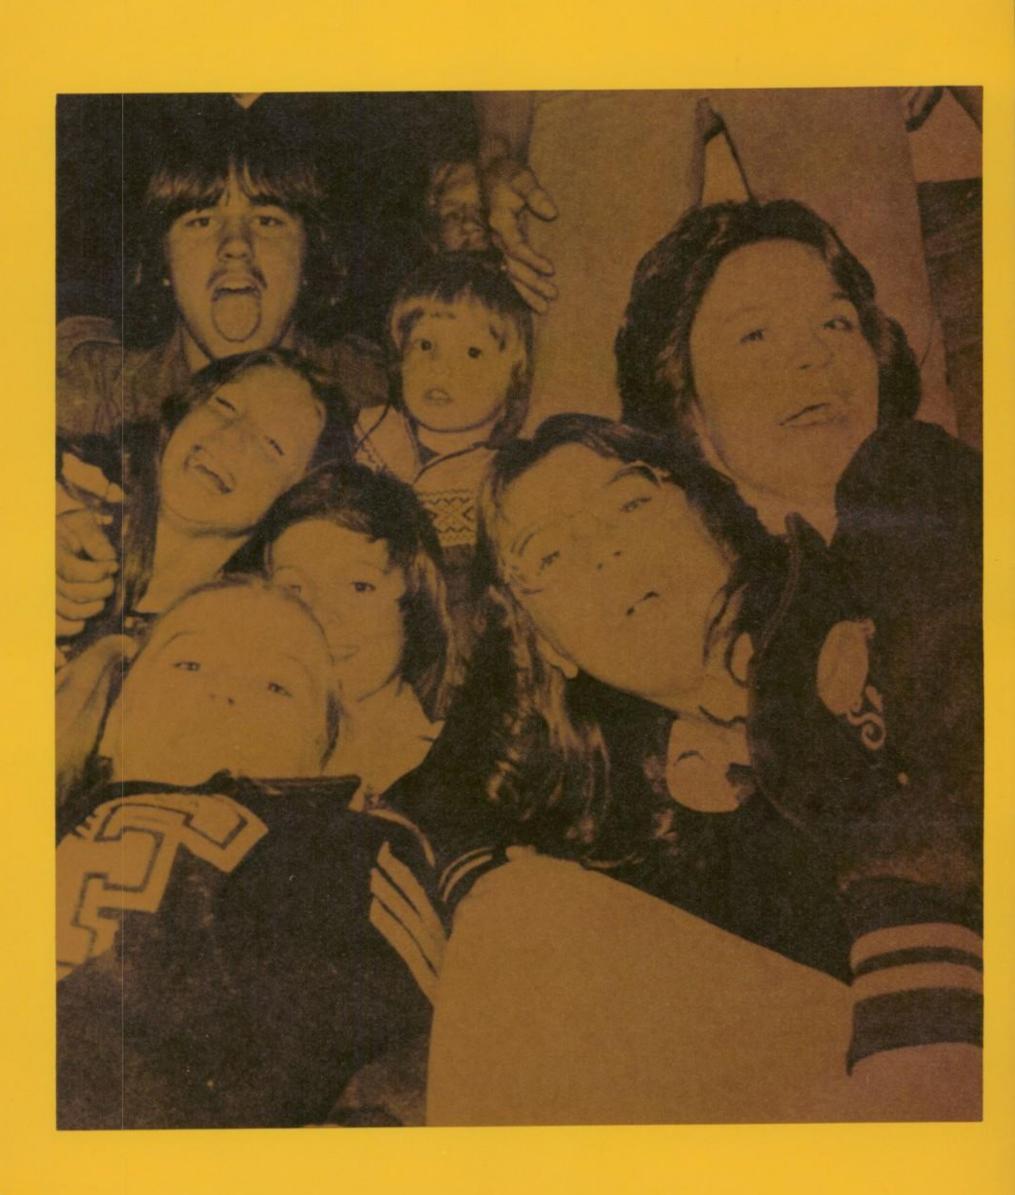

Among the many steps taken to arouse and unite school spirit behind the football team in '76 were a ''Purple and Gold Day'' and ''50's Day.'' Closets were raided to come up with the All-American look that characterized the 50's while imagination ran to extremes for ''Purple and Gold Day.''

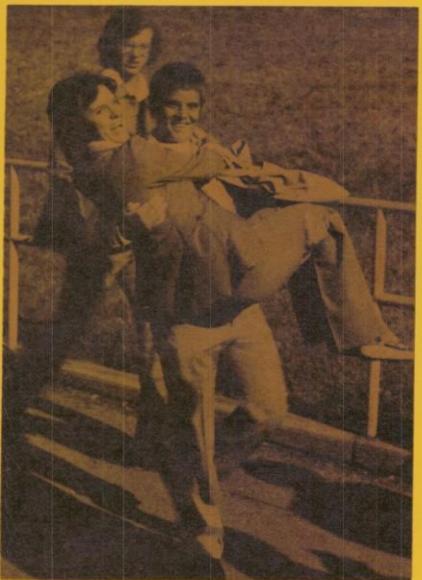

The Class of 1977 remembers Mike Long and Doug Stone.

We wish they were with us.

ANOTHER SUCCESSFUL YEAR

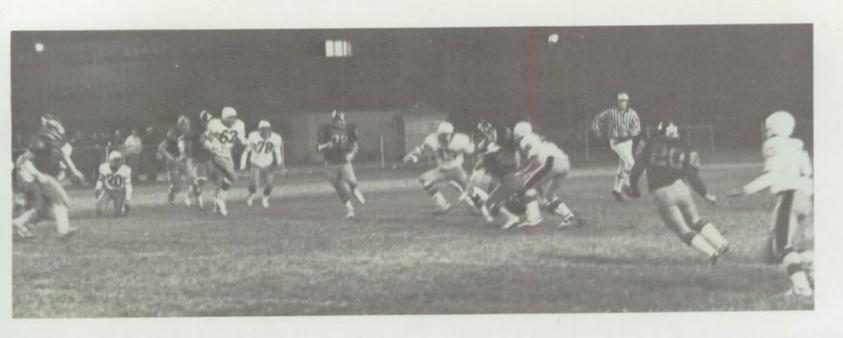

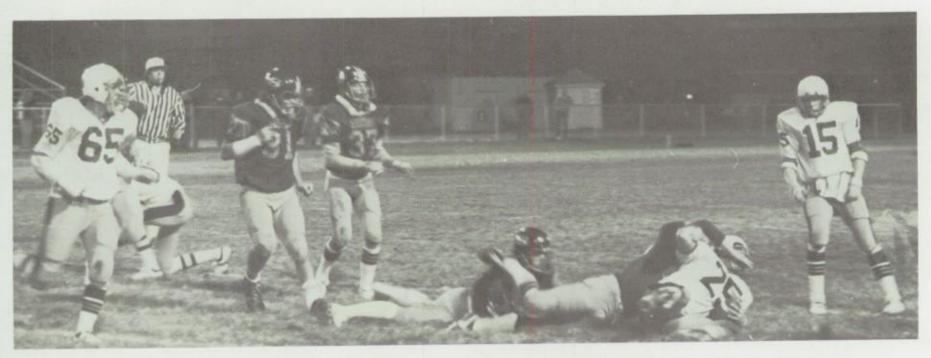

Good coaching, desire to win, dedication, team spirit, and fan support are among the many qualities necessary for the creation of a good football team. The members of the '76 Bulldogs combined these qualities with a little luck to have another winning year and another district championship.

The Bulldogs make ready for another play.

The 1976 football season, which began by seesawing between wins and losses, ended in a respectable 7-4 regular season record. This record and two district wins opened the way to a possible play-off berth, despite a loss to district rival Southern. When the KHSAA ruled that Southern has used an ineligible player, their forfeit gave the Bulldogs the play-off position. However, Southern appealed the ruling and a court battle ensued. A final decision was made the day before the scheduled game, ending several days of anxiety for FHS students and players alike.

Despite controversy over their being at Manual Stadium, the Bulldogs proved they belonged by defeating Fern Creek in the first round of the play-offs, 20-16. The second round had the Bulldogs meeting the Seneca Redskins, also at Manual Stadium. The Bulldogs, though playing valiantly, were still outclassed by the Redskins, who had entered the play-offs with an 11-0 record.

Probably the most important factor contributing to the success of the Fairdale Football program, outside of the players' hard work, is the excellent job, and the amount of work displayed by the coaches, team doctor, and team trainer. So, on behalf of the team the '77 Bulldog staff would like to thank these men for their time and effort.

Junior Achievement allows students the opportunity to learn about the free-enterprise system through the construction of small-scale companies. Officers are elected, a board of directors is appointed, and a product is chosen for manufacturing. Stock is then sold to interested individuals and production lines are set up. The finished product is sold at JA trade fairs. The companies are dissolved at the end of the year, and assets are liquidated.

Mrs. Bryant introduces the JA representative Ted Dinkin, at the first JA meeting of the year at Fairdale.

The Fairdale High DECA chapter began its fifteenth year in new surroundings. Until this year DECA has been housed in a small, one-room portable, but this year finds DECA in two air-conditioned rooms in the main building of the high school. At present there are fifty-two students in the DE program. Some of the activities planned for the year are National DECA Week, the Regional Career Development Conference, State Career Development Conference, Officers' Training Camp, fund raising, and guest speakers.

The BULLDOG staff was beset with problems during the 1976-1977 year, not the least of which were an unexpected teachers' strike and a snow vacation. Those 26 days threw a staff already plagued by missed deadlines even further behind. The book was finished two weeks after the original final deadline, and the staff sighed in relief!

Sponsor Mrs. Lyons and Richard Risinger mark pages off the progress chart as each is completed, bringing the book closer to completion.

Melissa Rouark and Randy Riggle check pages of the underclass section. Each page must be proofread, checked for pictures, and initialed by the sponsor before it is considered complete.

One section of room 200 was christened Creative Corner. It was here that staffers Patti Parker, Doug Cape, and Ray Greene produced layouts for the different sections of the book.

An invaluable member of the yearbook staff is the typist. Here Jackie Masler adds necessary copy to a layout.

Lauri Harlan and Kathy Rennirt were among those responsible for identifying and alphabetizing, numbering and stamping, and assigning underclass pictures to the appropriate pages.

The class of 1977 takes pleasure in dedicating this year's edition of the Bulldog to Miss Anita Gholson.

Dedicating a yearbook to one teacher is a class's way of saying thank you for the help she has given them during their four years of high school. It is with appreciation for her help, not only as a teacher and prom sponsor but also as a friend, that we express our gratitude by dedicating this 1977 Bulldog to . . .

Miss Anita Gholson.

To raise the standards of home life.

To secure adequate laws for the care and protection of children and youth.

To bring into closer relation the home and the school, that parents and teachers may cooperate intelligently in the education of children and youth.

To develop between educators and the general public such united efforts as will secure for all children and youth the highest advantages in physical, mental, social, and spiritual education.

Our
special thanks
to
Hugh Black, Sales Representative,
Taylor Publishing Company,
for
his patience and helpful
suggestions,
without which this book could not have been completed.

As you graduate you've become increasingly surefooted in making tracks compared with the tentative tracks you made as children. Graduating you've begun making choices which will leave imprints not only on your lives, but on the lives of all who follow. Choose wisely, and pray that the tracks that follow you through life will not be eroded by Time.
